Tamalpais Bank VP Named to Blood Center Board

Bank's Human Resources Director Will Lend Expertise to Non-Profit

San Rafael, CA—September 15, 2008—Anjana Berde, Tamalpais Bank first vice president/director of human resources, has been named to the Board of Directors of the Blood Centers of the Pacific (BCP).

The organization (www.bloodcenters.org) operates 11 blood center donation locations in Northern California, including one at 4050 Redwood Highway in San Rafael. Donors or volunteers can contact BCP at 1-888-393-GIVE.

“I have been a blood donor for 20 years,” said Berde, a San Anselmo resident who joined Tamalpais Bank in 2007. “When the opportunity to join the BCP was presented, I was honored and immediately accepted. My background in human resources and business banking will bring a new perspective to the Board, which has many members from the medical profession.”

A graduate of University of Massachusetts (Amherst), she also holds a Senior Professional in Human Resources (HR) Certification from the Human Resource Certification Institute. A 15-year HR executive, Berde has held a series of increasingly important positions with companies, including Digital Equipment Corp. (DEC) and Intel prior to joining Tamalpais Bank.

Regarding her appointment to the BCP Board and community outreach, she said “I hope to attract more diverse populations to donate blood.”
